

To potential clients of Lifetime Estate Liquidations,
One year ago, my husband and I faced a huge life change. My husband's mother lost her battle with cancer. In addition to the enormous loss of such a wonderful person, we were faced with a lot of issues. These were issues we never expected to face in our thirties. We were handed many new responsibilities, including a house full of memories and things. There were quite a lot of things. We were overwhelmed by the task of sorting through house contents and deciding what to do with it all. As a result of all of the emotions and other circumstances, we spent a lot of time deciding which services we would need to procure from Anita and Kathy. We also changed our minds regarding decisions about the house. Even so, they were extremely understanding, patient, kind and helpful. Without their help, we would have been spending all of our free time sorting through things instead of spending valuable time with our young children. They were unbelievably knowledgeable, swift, professional and reliable. Life is too short not to ask for help when you are faced with estate issues. Anita and Kathy provided immeasurable help to us when we felt hopelessly lost!

Sincerely and appreciatively,

Lisa Clay
