Kathy was very knowledgeable and helpful in all aspects of the process from preparing my home for sale to the final sale of the property. She helped coordinate open houses and found contractors and coordinated their work while I was out of town. She was able to find contractors who could get the job done right, inexpensively, and on schedule. Kathy was very responsive to my many questions during the process. She was in constant communication with me about changes in the market, new market analysis', and additional things I should do to prepare my home. I would highly recommend her to anyone looking for an experienced realtor, especially those who are downsizing. She has helped our family on numerous real estate transactions
